Summary Report

ADC-2002:Geriatric Care-Caring for the hands that cared for you

Older Indians carry a large burden of disease and disability and pose a tremendous challenge for the health sector as well as also social and economic infrastructure Geriatric medicine is an essential part of providing comprehensive care for the elderly patient population. It focuses on addressing the unique health needs of older adults, including chronic conditions, cognitive decline and functional limitations. The course will help medical graduates to diagnose and manage acute illness in old age in an in-patient setting, home and community setting where appropriate. It will also make them understand the Comprehensive assessment of an older person, including mood and cognition, gait, nutrition and fitness for surgery in an in-patient, home or community setting, including day hospitals and they will also be able to provide rehabilitation with the multidisciplinary team to an older patient in an inpatient, home, hospital and community. The key speaker for the above course is Dr PRASHANT KOKIWAR, Professor, Department of Community Medicine, MRIMS , who has worked in the Geriatric Health care and done research in quality of life among older population and she was supported by Dr Krishna Chaitanya, Associate professor, Department of General Medicine, MRIMS and Dr Arun, Assistant Professor, Department of Community Medicine, MRIMS. Both the supporting faculty have worked in hospital and community in providing health care services to the older population.

The program was conducted from 20th July 2020 to 24th July 2020 on 20.7.2020 to 24.7.2020 via Online mode (ZOOM)
